

Issue Date: AZ Spring/Summer 2009

Ask Us Anything

Q: Can you recommend some great spots for an Oregon Honeymoon?

A: Tough economic times aren't the only reason to honeymoon in Oregon—not by a long shot. With the state's varied natural beauty, world-class resorts and sporty spots for adventure, there's every reason to find your own brand of paradise close to home. From the coast to the mountains to the high desert, we've rounded up a few unique Oregon locales to start your new life together—whether you want to start it lounging in luxury, white-water kayaking or both.

For more bridal advice from Karen Vitt, pick up a copy of the Spring/Summer 2009 issue of Oregon Bride, on newsstands now.